

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Andrea Miller

Humble Arts Foundation

press@humbleartsfoundation.org

Humble Arts Foundation presents
New in Town: group show Pinned Up and Story

Curated by Jon Feinstein, Stephen Schuster, Emiliano Granado and Rebecca Smeyne

New York, New York—November 2006—Humble Arts Foundation, in conjunction with Myopenbar.com, is pleased to present New in Town: group show Pinned Up, an exhibition of photographs by new and emerging photographers. The show is a physical extension of group show, a loosely themed online gallery that showcases the work of 24 different photographers each month. Like the online gallery, the show serves as a potpourri of contemporary global culture -- a portrait of the world as we know it.

Participating photographers include Asha Schechter, Gavin Stevens, Stephanie Diamond, Steven Brahms, Ye Rin Mok, Geoffrey Ellis, Angie Smith, Alex Brown, Chuck Avery, Stephen Brookbank, Diane Ducruet, Marc McAndrews, Grant Ernhart, Sophie Lvoff, Amy Elkins, Ashley Macknica, Maggie Percell, Marni Horwitz, Matt Nighswander, Tammy Mercure, Mike Marcelle, Olivia Malone, Regine Petersen, Mark Rubenstein, Sam Morgan, Sarah Sudhoff, Tod Seelie, Justin Visnesky, Adam Williams and Barry Stone.

In conjunction with New in Town, Humble is delighted to announce the book launch and exhibition of Story, a collection of images that address traditional and new interpretations of documentary and narrative photography.

Participating photographers include Mikael Kennedy, Rafael Goldchain, Mandy Larson, Joshua Kristal, Davi Russo, Todd Deutsch, Stephen Miller, Andrew Hillard, Jack Bridges, Alan Duke, Michael Itkoff, Alison Grippo and Kate Philbrick.

Story is 8.5 x 11, 186 pages, 162 photographs, $25.00

Humble Arts Foundation presents
New in Town: group show Pinned Up and Story
December 11 – 16, 2006
The Gallery at 3rd Ward
195 Morgan Avenue
Brooklyn, New York

group show and Story are projects of Humble Arts Foundation, a not-for-profit organization that seeks to advance the careers of emerging fine art photographers by providing grants, professional support, and exhibition and publication opportunities.

For additional information and visuals, please contact: Andrea Miller @ press@humbleartsfoundation.org.